

Nurturing Parent Leaders in Your Schools

The potential for working with parents and families in schools through parent leadership programs has been documented as a highly effective prevention and intervention strategy for supporting student growth and achievement.

Source: Nurturing Parent Leaders in Your Schools